Geophysical Prospecting is planning a special issue entitled 'Rock-physics for the next generation', following the 5th International Workshop on Rock Physics (5IWRP) held in Hong Kong, between 23 - 26 April 2019. This special issue invites contributions which make novel theoretical, experimental and applied progress in measurement, modelling, and inversion of rock physics, with an emphasis on multiphysics and the stress-dependency of different physical properties.

Dobrin received his Ph.d. at Columbia University in 1950 under Ewing. While at Columbia, he taught courses in geophysics and he soon expanded his lecture notes into his famous book Introduction to Geophysical Prospecting. It is, without question, one of the most influential publications in the history of exploration because it has served as the fundamental text for at least two
