A Guide on How to Pick a Married Last Name Getting married? The number of decisions you have to make for the wedding, let alone decisions that will impact the rest of your life, can feel overwhelming. Taking on a life-long partner may also mean a new, life-long name. Changing the name, you've had since birth, is a big decision. Whether in same-sex or heterosexual nuptials, names play an important role and can impact children, career, identity, and ultimately, your happiness. "Should I Change my Name?" walks you through how to choose a last name that's right for you and your future spouse. Author Marcia Morgan examines the six most common married name options including separate, merged, linked, and newly-created names, and reveals the benefits and challenges of each. She weaves in personal stories from men and women who embraced their married name choices and those who had regrets. The firsthand accounts illuminate how gender roles, religion, or family of origin can deeply influence name preferences for you and your spouse-to-be. Morgan shines a light on the intriguing history of how married names were based on oppressive laws and reveals the meaning behind today's naming traditions. She takes you on a journey around the globe to look at naming practices in other countries and cultures. The book simplifies an otherwise overwhelming decision process so you and your partner can say a hearty "I Do" to the married name you choose. Best-selling author Marcia K. Morgan, Ph.D., brings a wealth of experience from over 40 years as a sociologist, researcher, trainer, and national expert on gender issues. Marcia and her husband live in Bend, Oregon.

Change your attitude, change your life. We're very good at explaining why we're unhappy: bad job, bad relationships, bad luck. But there's probably a better reason: bad attitudes. In Lord, Change My Attitude, James MacDonald shows us just how much our attitudes affect our lives. One of his bestsellers, this book is classic James: It's clear, it's inspiring, and it packs a punch. Drawing from the experience of the Israelites who grumbled through the wilderness, MacDonald shows how bad attitudes rob us of joy. Coveting, complaining, and being critical are not what our hearts were made for. They were made for thankfulness, contentment, and love. Is your heart straining under the weight of a bad attitude? Don't read this book if you're looking for a quick fix. Don't read this book if you're unwilling to change. Read it if you're ready for a serious, inside-out attitude adjustment.

President-elect Barack Obama reflected on the life of Ann Nixon Cooper on Tuesday, November 4, 2008, singling her out of millions of voters, he said, because she was "born just a generation past slavery, a time when there were no cars on the road or planes in the sky, when someone like her couldn't vote for two reasons—because she was a woman and because of the color of her skin." Energized by this history-making presidential campaign, Mrs. Cooper now shares her story, her life before the president called her name, in her own voice, with the assistance of bestselling author Karen Grigsby Bates. Mrs. Cooper is the beloved matriarch of a large and accomplished family who live throughout the country, and a long-celebrated elder in the city of Atlanta, Georgia, where she raised her children and has lived most of her long and extraordinary life. She was born and raised in Bedford County, Tennessee, near Nashville, on January 9, 1902. Her father was a tenant farmer, and her mother worked at home, taking care of the children. She met her husband, Dr. Albert Berry Cooper II, while he attended Meharry Medical College in Nashville. They settled in his hometown of Atlanta, where he established a successful practice in dentistry. When president-elect Obama referred to her in his speech, she became a celebrity, sought after by media from all over the world. In Mrs. Cooper's words: "All of a sudden, everyone wanted to talk to me. . . . It was nice they were interested, I guess, but I wasn't so thrilled that media and ordinaryfolk were acting as if the only exciting thing I'd everdone was vote for a black man for president. . . . I'd had a life before CNN and the rest "discovered" me." And she is going to tell you about it.

Changing our hearts through prayer changes things and truly moves the hand of God. We often hear other believers sharing about this. God's timing is not ours to command. If we do not start the fire with the first strike of our match, we must try again. God does hear our prayer, but He may not answer it at the precise time we have appointed in our minds. He will reveal Himself to our seeking hearts, though not necessarily when and where we may expect. The offence causing me to turn away may be spiritual. I had imagined that once within His fold, I would never again suffer from the stinging winds of temptation. Yet it is best for me the way it is, for when I endure temptation His grace is magnified, my own character matures, and heaven seems sweeter at the end of the day. There is one thing you can do that can accelerate your spiritual growth more than almost any other thing. Learn to take correction from the Spirit of God and from His people. Remember that next time someone corrects you. Love that person and thank him or her, for being concerned for you, and helping to speed up your spiritual progress. If you'll do that you'll come out ahead every time.

In this hilarious rhyming book, a little boy sees his world crumble around him as his mother prepares to change his diaper.

Plants often appear to have outstretched arms reaching to the sun. The energy they produce reaps rewards and benefits for both the plant and us. The Kazakh language has a saying that in its literal translation means "I see the sun on your back." What it means: "Thank you for being you. I am alive because of your help." Today we need that more than ever. This book is my unique validation and spin of the concept some call biophilia and the never changing need for the human connection with plants, earth, and nature in an ever rapidly changing world. I call it my "need to change my plants." In times of crisis, plants have always helped save the day. A "plant-demos" broke out in the year 2020 and it gave me 2020 vision. I share those thoughts with you - Why does it seem weeds get all the attention?- What plant significantly impacted the "jean" pool?- What is "viriditas" and why was there a resurgence in 2020?- What is anachronism and why was it important in 2020?- How does a "warrior" tend to his or her garden?- When the world's on fire do you get a garden hose?- How an 11-year-old, Diana Hopkins, helped convince a U.S. President that gardening is essential. - Don't waste a crisis your time is coming. - Were the times truly unprecedented or does history repeat itself?- You're not just whistling "Dixie" when you say good hygiene is important. - How Fra Mauro understood everyone has a story and why that's important. - Each of us have "Oakley's" in our lives. Learn how they impacted my life. - A favorite terrestrial earthy word that teaches us understanding intuitively with empathy. - Why rain smells like gratitude. - How plants use the mnemonic "sleep, creep, leap" to teach us something about ourselves. - Why talking to your plants is not such a silly idea. - Why the hoarding of toilet paper in 2020 should not have been a surprise, how there is historical precedent and ...if it happens again the 8 best plants nature gives us as a substitute for toilet paper. - What is quintessential normalcy?- Why interrupted patterns can be more interesting than chart datum. - Why nature and plants make us feel better. - What is tactical dispersal and how has it made history? Why history is important. - How disease forces change in the plant world. - The 4 things Mom used to fix everything. - Why do some plants have holes in the leaves and what it teaches us. - How a German alchemist impacted our world and daily life with P. - Why gardening and exercise can improve your quality of life. - Why storms don't just disrupt our lives...they clear a path. - Why negativity is contagious. Learn from Teasel and the Dame's Rockets. - Why coffee is the favorite drink of the civilized world. - Why we "xyst" for time with trees. - Are some trees shy or are they social distancing?- Why diversity is important. - Does a tree live forever?- What is "plantasm" and do you have "plantosmia"?- What indoor plants can teach us, how they provide comfort in our living spaces, and how the Dutch have the perfect word for their impact on our indoor environment. - How to kill a houseplant. - Why the apple doesn't fall far from the tree. - What salads have taught me. - Why inevitable change teaches us to cultivate our own garden. - Why change is an opportunity to grow. - How we each seek our own "vine and fig". - How a weed came to the rescue in a time of war. - Reflections on the Christmas tree as a long year comes to an end.
